

The opening night of the Lovers Film Festival is cancelled

The opening night of the 35th edition of the Lovers Film Festival, scheduled today, Thursday, October 22nd at 19:30 pm in Turin at Cinema Massimo, has been cancelled for reasons of the sponsor Gina Lollobrigida's health, on which presence of absolute importance the entire event was created.

"Unfortunately, in accordance with the National Cinema Museum we had to make this decision. We wanted to keep from being our friend Gina Lollobrigida under a stress that could aggravate her slight indisposition that however it's no big deal, thankfully. We apologize to the public also on her behalf" highlights Vladimir Luxuria, the director of the Lover Film Festival.

The musical showcase with Le Kikies will be recovered at a later date.
